Lacquerware

from

Vietnam

The Lacquerware is available for purchase at wholesale prices. During the last 2 years the School of Integrated Body Therapy has completed over 8 professional massage training programs in Vietnam (Saigon, Hanoi & Mui Ne). The School is the only massage training organisation to assist the advancement of the Spa & Resort Industry in this rapidly developing country. In total we have trained 70 Therapists, many of whom were Owners and Directors of Resorts and numerous Spa Managers who have gone on to train their staff at respective businesses. Currently for your information there is over 200 Spas in Saigon alone.

The School has imported these highly crafted homewares to assist a small craft village on the outskirts of Saigon. Many of the Craftsman involved in the making of these wares are over 80 years old, some over 90 years.

Not all lacquerware is the same. To make any one individual item may involve 6 different Craftspeople and also packers who carefully wrap each individual item to ensure its safe arrival. The items are predominantly made of good quality wood (not bamboo). The initial process takes 6 weeks, each item is sculptured to its shape, then covered with cotton cloth and tarred, this process is essential to guarantee the quality. The next stage involves 5 coats of lacquer applied at 2 week intervals. After each coat the Craftsman carefully sands the item using finer and finer sandpaper until a high gloss is achieved.

We have many items not on display, if you have any particular item you would like to match with another, ask the Staff and we will let you know what else is available.

Thank you for your interest.
